BREATHE

By Joyce Feldman, Temple President

Happy November! Last month, during a particularly stressful time in my life, I had an old friend pop into town for a brief visit. She was in town to say goodbye to her brother who was in the final days of his battle with cancer. We spent the only hour she had for the visit walking along the bluff overlooking our gorgeous shoreline. As we walked, along with her 91-year-old mother, we admired the view, reminisced about our childhood and talked about the unpredictability of life. The ocean drew us in with its powerful beauty and all three of us got a moment to just breathe.

Sometimes we get so wrapped up in our daily life and the lists of things we need to get done that we forget to breathe. I find that going to a beautiful place, helps center me and get me back on track in my life. I have many places that give me this sense of peace: our temple sanctuary; the beach; hiking on a nature trail; and my own back patio. Where do you go that helps you take that deep breath? Your Gemilut Chasidim (nurturing act of kindness) for the month of November to spend a bit of time in one of your favorite places and just breathe. To further extend your Gemilut Chasidim, encourage a friend who is going through a tough time to also take the time to breathe.

The month of November we have so many possibilities to gather together as a community for learning, social time and family. Along with our regular services our calendar is filled with many more opportunities! On November 3rd, join your community for Havdallah, followed by the screening and discussion of the movie "RBG: The Documentary". This month has several opportunities to learn more about Israel: Sunday November 4th you are invited to a presentation of "the Magic of Israel" presented by some of the participants from the 2018 TI trip; Monday, November 12th at the Gotz home you will hear an Israel update from Keshet Tour guide Danny Ehrlich; then on Sunday November 18th join "Women of the Wall" representative Cheryl Temkin for a discussion "Between the Stones & the Hard Place". More opportunities to view Jewish themed movies awaits you at the Alpert JCC, November 8-11 when the annual Long Beach Jewish Film Festival returns offering a wealth of interesting films, see the AJCC website for more information. The highlight of the offerings for our month is at the very end of the month, November 30-Dec 1. We celebrate the return of the Adult Shabbaton titled, "Miracles Great & Small"! See this issue of Kol Yisrael for more details and join me at what promises to be a meaningful Shabbat experience.

Lastly, the month of November brings us our National secular holiday of Thanksgiving. Most of us gather with friends and family to celebrate our country and our past. For many of us this day offers a break from work and a chance to catch our breath. Happy Thanksgiving to you and your loved ones. May the holiday bring you joy, a tasty table of treats and a chance to just breathe...

TEMPLE KICKS OFF ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN WITH PARLOR MEETINGS – CAN YOU HELP?

By Mark Beizer, Foundation

The Boards of Temple Israel and the Foundation have initiated a campaign to build our endowment. We're calling it "A Campaign for the Next Hundred Years." We have begun an effort to publicize the campaign, including scheduling a series of parlor meetings with congregants, not to ask for money, but to be able to explain the campaign in a more intimate setting.

You may be asking yourself, "A 100 year campaign?!?! What the heck does that mean?" No, it doesn't mean we'll be campaigning for a hundred years ...even though it might seem like it. It means we're going to secure the future of our congregation, tying it in with celebrating our Centenary in 2024 – our 100 years anniversary of building the Long Beach Jewish community!

These are exciting times at Temple Israel. Since the successful capital campaign and remodeling of the building more than six years ago, membership has grown, with new families and kids joining our large (and ripening?) community of senior members (and everyone in between). We have also enjoyed several years of financial stability, thanks to the hard work and responsible planning of our senior staff and Board.

Now we want to ensure that the Temple community can thrive not just in the few years ahead, but well into the future – and so, as Joseph impressed upon Pharaoh, in these good times it's wise to reap and store some extra grain. What better time to plant the seeds "for the next hundred years"?

The Temple's endowment is essentially a "nest egg" – accumulated over many years largely through bequests from generous donors. These funds, managed by the Foundation – with current holdings of approximately $2 million – are invested and generate income for the Temple beyond that of members' commitments or Torah Center fees. They supplement the operating budget, allow additional programming, and are available in case of emergency. Normally, only investment return (dividends, appreciation) is spent – the principal is not touched. But during financial "hard times" the endowment principal can be used to keep basic Temple functions afloat.

This endowment campaign is focused on several parts – the Temple Improvement and Preservation Fund (in Hebrew, Hiddur Mitzvah) to maintain the building; and three "chairs" to underwrite three key senior staff positions -- those of Senior Rabbi, Cantor, and Educator. As each of these funds build, the monies they spin off will relieve pressure on the Temple operating budget, which will allow more programming, scholarships, dues relief, etc. And if, and (as history has demonstrated, more likely) when the economy turns south, this nest egg will help us through any financial crisis.

The campaign is seeking both current donations and estate pledges. You might consider donations of marketable assets as well (stocks, real estate, etc.). If you have questions about donating, please contact Eric Shatzkin or any of the campaign committee members.

CAN YOU HELP?

You can be a part of this community effort. Most immediately, we are looking for additional volunteers to be involved in the campaign. Specifically, we're looking for families to host parlor meetings and otherwise "get the word out" to their friends in the congregation.

If you feel you can host, or are interested in attending one of these meetings, or help in any way, please contact Janet Schultz or Amy Lipeles.

Clutternomics

Clear your way to Profits, Productivity & Peace!

KATHLEEN RONALD

Saturday, November 3 ~10:30 a.m.

at Temple Israel

In our busy over-booked lives we all struggle to find harmony due to all of life's clutter that consumes us on so many levels. Clutter is a silent killer, a dis-ease that sucks out the "joy" of life and traps us in a never ending cycle of emotional, physical, spiritual and psychological pain. Clutter affects 19 areas of your life. The results are many and deeply transformative once you begin to get rid of the clutter.

This program includes live entertainment, a brief Shabbat Service and lunch ($5).

WHAT IS THIS SHUCKLING ALL ABOUT?

By Rick Burney, VP Ritual Practices

Earlier this year, we introduced a short educational segment into the RPC meetings to make them more engaging. For the October meeting, I volunteered to research and present on ritual movement during prayer.

My parents always referred to "bowing" and "bending the knee" as "davening." In fact, when I agreed to discuss prayer body movement, I titled this research "Davening." I was wrong! Davening is the Yiddish word for prayer. Most of you probably know this, so consider my education as "on the job training." When I used "davening" as a search term in Google, the response was page after page of sites about Jewish prayer. The only site that came close to what I was looking for was an article from Berkeley Wellness that spoke of physical challenges that some people experience from body movement during prayer.

I consulted Rabbi Moskowitz and he introduced me to the term "shuckling," which according to the Reform Judaism website, "Wikipedia," is from the Yiddish word meaning "to shake". Shuckling is the ritual swaying of worshippers during prayer, usually forward and back but also from side to side. So, a new and effective Google search term... "Shuckling."

But what is this shuckling all about? Rabbi Rachael Klein Miller of Temple Emanu-El in Atlanta suggests: "We can trace bowing all the way back to our Tanakh. At that time it was likely a full prostration, and by the time it was talked about in the Talmud, it was generally a waist/knee bow. But still we wonder, why?"

The conventional wisdom is that shuckling is a sign of servitude and humility before God. We don't shuckle during all of our prayers, just at strategic times to demonstrate our devotion to God. For example, during the Bar'chu, our call to prayer when we proclaim that Adonai is One, we bow as we chant Bar'chu and rise while chanting Adonai. The leader bows during the first line. During the second line the congregation bows in response. The bowing is from the waist, unlike other times during the service such as the Amida, when we do bend our knees.

One last thing. When I worked at Raytheon, every day during lunchtime a group of Orthodox Jews gathered in a conference room for prayer. There was often a need for a tenth Jew to make a minyan and I was drafted to join them. One of them even kept a spreadsheet tracking how often they were able to gather a minyan (Rabbi, note the intersection of science and religion). I was amazed at the intensity of the prayer choreography that I now know to be shuckling. Some were pitching forward and back, some were rotating side to side (yawing to use an aeronautical term) and some seemed to be moving randomly. What might appear to a casual observer as a form of exercise may serve to increase concentration, while acknowledging reverence to Adonai. I now better understand their choreography.

TEMPLE ISRAEL IN ACTION!

By Andrea Friedenthal, Social Action Committee

This year, for our annual Rick Fahlk Memorial Food Drive, the food you brought went directly to those in need! Many thanks to all of you who participated through your donations, and a huge thanks to Paul Levitt for arranging for the truck and gathering the 'schlepping team', Rob Friedenthal and Harvey Friedman. Thanks to you, we collected 230 bags of groceries by Yom Kippur, and another 42 bags before the drive was over. The so-grateful recipients this year of the initial load of groceries were our neighborhood Emmanuel Church Food Pantry (6th & Termino), who serves a diverse population that includes veterans, disabled folks, and seniors, and We Care, a homeless prevention and support program that serves 160 families with children.

Following the end of food drive on September 30, the remaining 42 bags of groceries went to a newly discovered non-profit called Wrap The Kids. This organization works to have the homeless help the homeless. They come and make blankets which are then given to homeless children, or sold to raise funds to support them. Our bags of groceries disappeared that same day to the hundred of homeless who live in encampments under the 91 Freeway and the riverbed. We have isolated some ongoing opportunities to help them, so watch your Social Action notices for more information!

Food Drive Thank You Note from Wrap The Kids (WTK):

"Wrap the Kids and all the homeless would like to say thank you for all the generous donations of groceries we received from all that donated the food. The homeless were so grateful to receive it. They said this is the first time anyone has shown that they matter outside of WTK. From the bottom of our hearts to all of you, have a blessed night and thank you again."

~ Susanna Twaite, CEO of Wrap The Kids

In our ongoing efforts to 'build community,' we have networked We Care and Wrap The Kids in some future projects. We Care will be sharing the plentiful food drive collection they get in November with Wrap the Kids. (We'll need a few drivers to deliver, so stay tuned.)

TEMPLE ISRAEL
HIGH SCHOOL
PROGRAM

November was yet another action-packed and exciting month for the Temple Israel youth! We kicked off the activities with an all High School Program Family Trivia Night where teens bonded with their parents and other families over an engaging and memorable event. On Sunday November 4th, the ninth and tenth graders enjoyed spending time with their class grandparents, learning and laughing together. Our 8th graders also had the opportunity to learn from and appreciate the company of their class grandparents this month. In addition, our eighth grade class had a family learning day where parents were included in a Torah Center class with their teens – family immigration stories were shared by all. Many ANDI events took place during November. Our younger members attended NFTY SOCAL's 678 program where they were able to meet kids their age from other temples. Also, ANDI held their all-nighter event on November 9th. Teens got to know each other and establish connections during the all night adventure all over Long Beach. Another significant event from the month of November was the NFTY SOCAL Social Justice Kallah. Those that attended went on a meaningful weekend retreat where they unplugged from electronics, attended the Los Angeles Women's March, and engaged in interactive social justice workshops. All in all, November was an extremely successful month for the High School Program here at Temple Israel, and we look forward to more exciting events in the future.

INTERFAITH GREATINGS

Soka Gakkai International/SGI

By Roni Love, SCIC Members

It was “18 years in the making and a dream come true” for SGI’s Long Beach members when their Buddhist Center in Bixby Knolls held its Grand Opening. Patti Heckman, past president of the SCIC and fellow board member, greeted an overflowing crowd on August 26th, stating, “Our message of global peace, culture and education is based on the spirit of “Soka” or value creation.” Those words were echoed by proclamations, letters and certificates from SGI President, Daisaku Ikeda, Mayor Robert Garcia, Congresswoman Nanette Diaz Barragan and Supervisor Janice Hahn.

Additionally, SGI was welcomed into the community by Al Austin, the district’s City Councilmember and his Chief of Staff, Jonathan Kraus, my former student at Whitney High! Members of the South Coast Interfaith Council, of which I was a part, were also honored.

Did you know that SGI members live in 192 countries and territories and have no temples or priests? Lay people lead discussions, meetings and other duties through their community centers, while daily practice and discussions are held in homes. SGI’s president, Daisaku Ikeda, is a peacebuilder, writer, poet, educator and founder of many cultural, educational and peace research institutions around the world, developing and inspiring the largest, most diverse international lay Buddhist association in the world, based on the 700-year tradition of Nichiren Buddhism and the Lotus Sutra; teaching that each person possesses the courage, wisdom and compassion to face and surmount any of life’s challenges - respecting the dignity of human life and the interconnectedness of self and the environment by engaging in various peace activities, including human rights education, the movement to abolish nuclear weapons and efforts to promote sustainable development.

I am honored to have been a part of this wonderful new beginning for Long Beach’s SGI members—our sisters and brothers...shalom, salaam, her ping, paz, shanti, peace.

Cindy Mentz, daughter of long time temple members, Charles Leff and the late Nancy Leff has announced her wedding to David Goldman. She will have two ceremonies. The first will be in Long Beach Long Island, New York. This will be the Chuppah and will be attended by close family members. The second ceremony will be held in Las Vegas on the 20th of December, her birthday. This will be officiated by an Elvis impersonator. Attending this ceremony will be friends and family of both the Bride and Groom.
