BEYOND

By Joyce Feldman, Temple President

Happy October! As we depart our High Holy Day season, I would like to wish you and your family a belated Shana Tova. From Rosh HaShanah to Simchat Torah I hope you found our services, as I did, inspiring and meaningful. I want to take the time to thank our amazing temple staff and the volunteers who worked so hard to prepare and provide these days for us: Rabbi Moskowitz for encouraging us to "Go Beyond" as we look into this coming year; Cantor Hass, for gifting us with music both traditional and contemporary that sings to our soul; Musical Director David York, the High Holy Day Choir, the quartet, cellists Daniel Smith and Cecilia Tsan who filled our sanctuary with glorious sounds; Student Rabbi Leah Sternberg for bringing enthusiasm and insights; Executive Director Eric Shatzkin along with the office, custodial and security staff for seamlessly organizing the logistics that kept these days running flawlessly; Educator Sharon Amster Brown for working tirelessly through our Celebration in the Park and the beginning of Torah Center; and to the many lay leaders and volunteers who gave their time to further enhance our days. Thank you to everyone who worked together to make these special days truly the highlight of our Jewish year.

I also want to thank YOU, our awe inspiring congregation. As I said during my Erev Rosh HaShanah speech, we Jews are kind of like lemons: resilient and strong. We can be sometimes sweet, sometimes sour and when combined together we create amazing things, like lemonade! Thank you for choosing to be one of our 594 families. Each one us brings our uniqueness and our gifts to blend together to make Temple Israel THE PLACE TO BE. I want to thank you for your ongoing support to our beautiful temple home. As your board president, it is my job to gently remind you, if you haven't already, to please send in your High Holy Day pledge. Our budget depends on these gifts to continue to provide all the services and programs that make our temple so strong. Your gifts help us to go beyond and make "sweet lemonade"!

Go Beyond. Rabbi Moskowitz introduced the idea of going beyond during High Holy Day services. Beyond is our Joys of Jewish Learning (JL) theme this year. The aliyahs during the Torah readings of the High Holy Days were given to those of us who had done something to go beyond ourselves: from helping a neighbor, to visiting someone who is ill, to attending an interfaith or intercultural event, to creating art, to teaching, to serving in the military and...beyond!

Going beyond is about being brave. Stepping out of our normal routine and doing something just a little bit (or a lot) scary.

Doing something that perhaps you didn't think you could do or stretching to take action when it would be so much easier to do nothing.

This month for your Gemilut Chasadim (nurturing act of kindness), I want to encourage you to Go Beyond! This can be done in many ways, it is really up to you. Perhaps find a tikkun olam project to participate in, help your neighbor, teach someone a skill, create something beautiful, learn something new, the list is endless and how you accomplish this task is truly up to you.

There are more ways to go beyond! You will soon receive this year's JLL catalog. If you don't get your copy, I encourage you to stop by the Temple to pick up one up or to look on the website for the digital version. This catalog is filled with so many opportunities for learning and going beyond in the upcoming year! This month you won't want to miss our Pilger Scholars on October 19th through 21st: Issac and Rabbi Shawna Brynjegard-Bialik bring us "Paper Midrash/Pop Culture Torah. On October 27th join your TI friends at the ITC performance of the play, "A Splintered Soul". Tickets can be purchased on the ITC website using the promo code "Temple10." Some highlights in the next couple of months include the return of the Adult Retreat November 30 - December 1 and December 7-9 you will be delighted by a special visit from Michelle Citrin, Jewish Performing Artist, who is joining our community to help us celebrate Hanukkah! Watch emails, Kol Yisra'el and the website for more information. There are so many more opportunities that will interest you: be sure to thumb through the JLL catalog with your calendar at hand. Mark your dates and prepare to go beyond!

Happy October! Go Beyond!

AN EVOLUTION OF RITUAL

By Rick Burney, VP Ritual Practices

A number of congregants have shared with me their thoughts and observations about the recent High Holy Days services and it was interesting to hear the diversity of thought expressed. I heard dismay in the voice of one individual who was surprised that everyone did not wear kippot and tallit. While there was no question about the extraordinary quality of the music, I heard varied opinions about whether a choir should be part of a Jewish service. I saw more people than ever before embrace the practice of wearing white and not wearing leather on Yom Kippur. Some took comfort in the traditional readings and others found meaning in the private readings that were available on alternate pages.

Temple Israel, like many Reform congregations, is open to congregants observing ritual practices and praying in a manner in which they are most comfortable. Historically, however, "traditional" ritual observance at the Temple was not commonplace.

In the book "From Danzig: An American Rabbi's Journey" by Rabbi Wollf Kaelter (Rabbi Kaelter was the Rabbi at Temple Israel from 1955 through 1979, and Rabbi Emeritus after that), Rabbi Kaelter described his surprise at the traditions and rituals that were not observed at Temple Israel when he arrived in the 1950s; the wearing of kippot and tallit by congregants and the clergy, B'nai Mitzvah as a rite of passage, and saying the Kiddush and lighting candles at Friday night services. This was Reform Judaism at that time, to assimilate with non-Jewish society and to distinguish ourselves from Orthodox Jews. Slowly, the rituals and traditions that are now commonplace at Temple Israel were introduced but it was not until 1968 that Rabbi Kaelter began wearing a kippah at services.

A New York Times article from June, 1989 titled "Reform Jews Are Returning to Ritual" described how many Reform congregations around the country were selectively embracing Jewish ritual. In this article Rabbi Samuel Karff of Houston stated "Contemporary society, recognizing the limitations of the intellect, looks to religious ritual as a way of binding us to our community and bringing us closer to the sacred." "Also, what distinguishes the Reform approach to ritual today," Rabbi Karff continues, "is a freedom for both rabbis and lay people to choose only the traditions that they find most meaningful." Temple Israel was well ahead of this "Renaissance of Ritual." Meanwhile, Reform Judaism has resolved its identity issues and has recognized the importance of ritual practice in the pursuit of spiritual enrichment.

Today, at Temple Israel, we have evolved to include a diverse menu of ritual practices and traditions from which our congregation can observe at their own choosing. The wearing of kippot and tallit, reading (or chanting) of Torah, and a varied selection of worship services including Shabbat HaNefesh and an alternative Yom Kippur morning service this year. Reform Judaism does not demand adherence to ritual but strives to provide congregants the opportunity to customize or tailor their ritual experience. This is very powerful and many congregants have stated that this is the primary reason that they have chosen to be Reform Jews. However, to continue to be a dynamic congregation our evolution must continue. While many of us take comfort in the familiar, the world around us is not static and we, as a congregation and members of the Reform movement, must evolve with it. To make sure that we are meeting our congregants' needs, we need to hear from you. Please reach out to our clergy and/or board members to let us know what you are looking for in ritual practice. We cannot satisfy all of the people all of the time but we would like to make sure you can find a meaningful worship experience in our congregation.

There is a copy of Rabbi Kaelter's book in the Temple Israel library that can be checked out. This is recommended reading!

She and Rick found a welcoming home in Temple Israel and Lidia is tremendously grateful for her Temple Israel family.

The Rick Fahlk Memorial High Holy Day Food Drive was named after Lidia's husband Rick. They worked together on the Food Drive until his death in 2011. Lidia continues to honor Rick by participating in the food drive collections.

THIS MONTH'S B'NAI MITZVAH

Kylie Solymar
October 6, 2018

My name is Kylie Solymar and I'm in 8th grade at Tetzlaff Academy in Cerritos. I love soft and cuddly things and have lots of stuffed animals. I also love to draw and play Minecraft while most kids my age talk about Fortnite these days, but that doesn't interest me. I have recently gotten into animating with a program I use on my iPad to make cartoons. For my Mitzvah Project, I did two different things. Once a month on the first Saturday of each month, I was helping out at Sabbath Fellowship with my classmates: Noe, Eli, Ben, and Jacob. I helped with greeting, serving, cooking, cleaning up, and socializing with the attendees. My favorite part was when we helped out Chana, the volunteer chef in the kitchen. I got to make my first hamantaschen! For my second project, I helped out Kelly Perler with Tot Shabbat. I would sit with Jay Alhadeff and we would greet the kids and their parents and make sure everyone got a nametag. My brother David and his classmate Eli, would help out during the service where I would sit amongst the little ones and keep them quiet and contained on the floor in front of the ark. The kids loved to sit on my lap! I am excited for my Bat Mitzvah, and hope to see all my closest family and friends there to watch me get my tallit.

Noé Santana
October 27, 2018

Hello, my name is Noé Santana and I'm an 8th grader at Intellectual Virtues Academy (IVA). My hobbies include reading and playing video games. I also love socializing with my friends and playing with my cat, Lucky.

My Bar Mitzvah will be taking place on October 27 and I'm super excited to share this moment with my family and closest friends. My favorite thing about being part of the temple community is that the kids in my class are sharing this experience with me, as they have all had a B'nai Mitzvah themselves (I'm the last in my class).

My Mitzvah Project was to help out at the Sabbath Fellowship once a month with fellow classmates, Jacob, Eli, and Kylie. I enjoyed this experience as it gave me the chance to forge a bond with the seniors that attended.

MY BAT MITZVAH TRIP TO ISRAEL

By Danielle Jackson

The weekend of June 23 was by far the most magical weekend of my life. Between my bat mitzvah service and stepping foot in the holy land for the first time, I think it's safe to say that I'll remember this journey my entire life. I thank my parents for planning this trip and taking my brother and I on this journey.

My time in Israel was very meaningful.

The sites, food, and family aspects of the trip were all wonderful. While in Israel, my family and I visited Masada, the Dead Sea, Tel Aviv, Jerusalem, Holon, Modiin, Latrun, Haifa, Ceseara and the Carmel. All of these places were breathtaking and it was super cool to see how different they looked in real life compared to all of the pictures that I've seen. The dead sea was probably one of my favorites, floating in the water and getting to experience that for the first time. The food in Israel is delicious; falafel, shawarma, fish, olives, bamba, burekas, and Israeli chocolate were all so much better in Israel. We spent Shabbat, both Friday and Saturday, with my family and we all bonded right away since most speak English. I met lots of cousins, great aunts and uncles, and even my 93 year old great-grandmother, Chaya. We even went on a picnic in one of the forests outside Jerusalem and bowling with my cousins which was lots of fun.

Overall, Israel was clearly the most amazing place I've ever been to. Surrounded by the sites, sounds, scents, religious places and my extended family, I know for sure that I will return and visit again. I believe everyone should visit this beautiful land at least once in their lifetime.

WELCOME NEW MEMBERS

Marcos & Pamela Weinstein

It's all about the latkes. Pamela and Marcos Weinstein met September 11, 2002, at the Long Beach Alpert JCC. While attending a 9/11 memorial, Pamela tasted some the delectable homemade treats at the (now closed) locally famous "J-Cafe" that Marcos owned with his brother, Doug Weinstein, longtime Temple Israel member. Pamela saw Marcos running around, cooking and cleaning while serving chatting and knew she had to know him better. She asked for a school donation for latkes and the rest is history. From then on, Pamela has been the beneficiary of Marcos's amazing cooking, cleaning, handyman skills and admires his community service. While dating, Pamela completed an adult Bat Mitzvah with Marcos's support. After getting married at University Synagogue in Irvine, in 2006, they first lived in Naples and now Belmont Heights. Pamela, a Lakewood native, and former member of Temple Israel as a child, the daughter of Dr. David Goren DDS, works at Rogers Middle School teaching Sixth Grade English, plays Mah Jongg, works out at Bar Method, as well as volunteers on the Board of Food Finders and Women's Philanthropy. Marcos is a jack of all trades; from construction inspector to real estate lender, to yacht broker and overall sailing enthusiast. He is also co-chair of the Jewish Federation's Men's Philanthropy Annual Community Campaign event, Above & Beyond. They travel extensively but also love being home with their three cats, Lucky, Gracie and Red. They are grateful to have a new, very familiar, synagogue community.

Torah Center Representative: Natalie Petersen is a senior at Los Alamitos High School. Her hobbies include watching Netflix, spending time with her friends and dogs, and reading. Natalie started Torah Center in sixth grade, and she feels well connected and supported in the atmosphere

Thursday, October 25 at 7:00pm
Facilitators: Joe and Natalie Lissak

Join us, as we view a 55-minute video about the Romaniote Jews who were around 2,000 years ago and were brought to Greece as slaves by the Roman King Alexander when he captured them in Jerusalem, as he and his army attacked the Middle East, desecrating the 2nd Temple.

The Lissaks recently traveled with a small group from Kehila Kedosha Janina (a Greek Sephardic synagogue/museum) to Northern Greece and the Balkans. Today there are approximately 6,500 Romaniote Jews in the U.S. This synagogue is also known as the Broome Street Shul/museum - still in existence since the early part of this century on the lower East Side of Manhattan. It functions as a traditional place for descendants of the Romaniotes, whose roots emanate from Thessaloniki, Ioannina (where there are still small communities practicing their religion), along with the Islands of Rhodes and Chalki and into the Balkans.

RITUALS THAT GO BEYOND: THE WEARING OF TEFILLIN

Sunday, October 28 at 9:45am
Teacher: Rabbi Moskowitz

Religious rituals are roadmaps of return. They are designed to help us remember why we have been created: to express gratitude for our existence through love, compassion, and justice. We will explore three rituals that may be beyond what we currently practice. In any case, they will take us beyond. If you have a set of tefillin, please bring them with you.
